Grateful For Tears and Laughter

I AM grateful, God, for tears. For the ability to cry. How marvellously you made us that we are equipped with this way to express our emotions. Quick tears to relieve the sudden hurt. Or for the times when we are touched, too moved to speak. Or when deeper sorrows come, that we have this fierce and wonderful cleansing. This release that helps to wash away the very grief our drying demonstrates. How you must love us that you thus provided for us. No other being has it, no insect, bird or beast. Only man and woman made in your likeness. We are the only creatures who can cry.

Jesus wept, as we weep. Our very tears are testimony to your fatherhood. We too are your sons and daughters. Thank you for this proof, and for this healing outlet, the ability to cry.

And thank you, Lord, for laughter. And for all the people who can bring it about, make us see the funny side of things. The world is so full of anguish; life itself sometimes seems so grim. Thank you that in your vast understanding you gave us laughter to make us forget, to restore our wounded spirits, brighten the journey, lighten the load.

Just as you saved tears for human beings. you bless us alone with laughter. And surely this too is a clue to your nature. A nature akin to our own. Thank you for this blessing, Lord, This shining gift of laughter.

“This Day Is Holy”

⁹ Then Nehemiah, who was the governor, and Ezra the priest and scribe, and the Levites who taught the people said to all the people, “This day is holy to the Lord your God; do not mourn or weep.” For all the people were weeping when they heard the words of the law. ¹⁰ Then he said to them, “Go, eat of the fat, drink of the sweet, and send portions to him who has nothing prepared; for this day is holy to our Lord. Do not be grieved, for the joy of the Lord is your strength.
