God has called us to do our part...

He has equipped us with enough wisdom love and power to bring others to the Lord. He has assured us that He will turn our shortcomings into His glory and He will never leave us (Deut. 31:6). Just as God delivered the Israelites from slavery and redeemed them from under their burdens... He does the same for us... He delivers us from our sins and He redeems or buys back our hope of salvation.

Just as God desired Moses to lead his people... he desires us to lead those around us to Christ and eternal salvation. Yes it is uncomfortable to ask those around us if they believe in Jesus, if they have ever thought about their souls, or if they would be interested in studying the Bible together... but what is the alternative...?

Keeping the good news all to ourselves? Will that do anyone (including ourselves) any good... if we never use this gift God has so generously given to us? I fear that our soul will be in jeopardy if we never share to those around us.

So let's make it a goal of ours to go just a little more outside of our comfort zone. Invite someone, ask someone if they would like to study the Bible together, tell someone that you love them too much to not want them in heaven with you..., or share the plan of salvation:

Jesus paid the price . He stood in our place.
He bore our guilt . He made us righteous.
